

SEC. 4. And be it enacted, That the said corporation shall be capable in law of purchasing, holding, selling, leasing and conveying estates and property, real and personal, as freely and fully, and with the like freedom from any claims or title of reverter therein, as any natural person may; and may sue and be sued in said corporate name, and have and use a common seal, and alter and renew the same at pleasure; and shall have and enjoy, and may exercise, all the powers, rights and privileges which any other corporate bodies possess, or may exercise, for the uses and purposes stated in this act.

Capable in law

Sue in corporate name.

SEC. 5. And be it enacted, That the affairs of the said company shall be managed by a board of five directors, who shall serve for two years and until the selection and qualification of their successors; the corporators named in the first section of this act shall be the directors to serve for the first year and until the selection and qualification of their successors; to continue the succession of such board of directors, persons who need not be stockholders shall be chosen or appointed biennially in such manner and by such authority as may be provided by the by-laws of the said corporation; said directors shall have authority to select a president and any other officers, to be provided for by such by-laws, from among their own number or otherwise; and the said directors, or a majority of them, may make and pass all by-laws, not contrary to law, to regulate any affairs of said company.

Board of directors.

Select president.

SEC. 6. And be it enacted, That said corporation is hereby invested with all powers necessary and convenient for the acquisition of such land and other property, personal as well as real, in the city of Baltimore or in the vicinity of it, as the said president and directors, or a majority of them, shall deem necessary, to provide ample yards and depot and other terminal facilities for the business of the Western Maryland Railroad Company, and the erection of the necessary structures thereon, and the laying of rails thereon, and the connection of the same with all tracks in use by the said railroad company, and to make all necessary or convenient contracts for the purchase, leasing and acquisition in any manner of any land, property and materials for Invested with powers.