

SEC. 6. Be it further enacted, That the possession by any person within the county of any of the birds or other wild game mentioned in the preceding sections of this act, at any time in which the shooting or trapping of the same is prohibited by said preceding sections, or the possession by any express or transportation company of any partridges, quail, woodcock or rabbits, at any time, shall be prima facie evidence of violation of this act.

What constitutes evidence

SEC. 7. Be it further enacted, That any person or persons found trespassing upon any private property in this county, which shall have been posted or advertised, shall be liable to be arrested by any constable of the county, and shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof before any justice of the peace of said county, shall be fined the sum of five dollars, and on failure to pay said fine shall be confined in the county jail for a term of not less than ten nor more than twenty days.

Penalty for trespassing.

SEC. 8. Be it further enacted, That the fines which may be collected by any justice of the peace of said county under the provisions of this act, and the money paid to said clerk of the circuit court for licenses under the provisions of this act, be paid by said justice of the peace and the said clerk to the county commissioners of said county, to be by them placed to the credit of the school fund for said county.

Fines—how disposed of.

SEC. 9. Be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the constable of the several election districts of the county aforesaid, to arrest any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this act, and take them before the nearest justice of the peace, to be dealt with as this act has heretofore directed.

Duty to arrest

SEC. 10. And be it further enacted, That this act shall take effect from the date of its passage.

Effective.

Approved May 3, 1882.