

1 present. Judge Niles, is that correct or incorrect?

2 JUDGE NILES: That is legally correct, but
3 actually, I pride myself. I think that the title, Chief 4 Judge, does give more power and I am backed up in that 5 by Judge Reardon, who says that is, in fact, within his 6 experience.

7 JUDGE BRUNE: Suppose you called him Chief
8 Administrative Judge?

9 JUDGE NILES: I think he wants to be a judge,
10 and I don't think you can pick an administrative judge
11 right out of the bag.

12 JUDGE BRUNE: If you pick him and put him in 13 this job, he is going to be an administrator as long as 14 he is in it according to the Committees on Predictions.

15 JUDGE NILES: That is right, for fifteen years
16 and then he can go back for trial. I think we are trying 17 to forget the same thing, only with differences in detail.

18 THE CHAIRMAN: Let's go on to the rulemaking
19 power.

20 MR. SCHLITZ: Before you leave this, in regard
21 to the Illinois system or the Philadelphia system, in one
