

1 THE CHAIRMAN: One last question, Mr. Raver.
2 Just why do you think that the elimination of the clause
3 that we have been discussing in Subsection (11) of Section 4 52 would generate a negative attitude in the minds of many 5 people toward the revision of the Constitution? Do you
6 really think that this would, if the Commission came up 7 with this kind of a recommendation, that the people would 8 certainly in public education, would turn against the 9 Constitution?

10 MR. BOND: A whole idea of the Constitution?

11 THE CHAIRMAN: Yes.

12 MR. RAVER: I think they would because I think 13 fear groundless or otherwise -- I personally don't think
14 it is groundless, because I have indicated that I am con-
15 cerned -- but this is something for which the people of 16 this State have been proud for many years. Let me give 17 you one example of this. When we went from a biennial 18 legislative session to an annual legislative session, in 19 what, fifteen years ago --

20 THE CHAIRMAN: 1948 --

21 MR. RAVER: Close to twenty, eighteen years ago,
