

1 couldn't use it for anything other than education in 2 the next year or any other year, because the consti-
3 tutional provision is not limited to one year, you see.

4 MR. CASE: But you could always make a
5 bookkeeping entry, because they always need more. So,
6 it goes back and keeps revolving in the educational 7 system. There is no problem with that.

8 MR. ENEY: I don't think so, because if you 9 go on the premise that school funds, as used here, and 10 this I thought was a very plausible argument, meant 11 the appropriated funds, then you necessarily would have 12 to have the Budget Bureau every year pick up the re-
13 versions and include them in as income for the school
14 fund in the next year.

15 MR. CASE: They could do it.

16 MR. ENEY: They have never done it.

17 MR. CASE: They may not have done it. They 18 haven't done a lot of things, but they have done it in

19 MR. ENEY: Whether they are right or wrong
20 is something else, but, in fact, they have never re-
21 garded Section 3 as being applicable, as a matter of
