

1 because I am involved in this, every now and then there
2 are joint hearings and this is one way by which a bicameral
3 body can break through the unattractiveness of bringing 4 administrative heads down on two or three occasions in 5 order to appear for hearings, and this has been happening.
6 It is kind of interesting as to how the structure of bi-7 cameralism tries to adapt itself in order to avoid com-
8 mittee overhauling.

9 DR. MICHENER: To anticipate something further
10 on, in connection with joint committees, I didn't mention 11 the fact of duplicating appearances on the administrative 12 people which is a serious problem on the Federal level
13 because, from what little I know about Maryland here, I 14 didn't find that to be a problem.

15 THE CHAIRMAN: Yes, it is.

16 DR. MICHENER: Is it? I didn't know.

17 THE CHAIRMAN: Yes.

18 DR. MICHENER: I haven't had a chance to do any 19 research on the Maryland experience, but I wouldn't assume 20 it would be as serious here as on the Federal level, but 21 going on to joint hearings and joint committees, the
