

1 have to have a second hearing on a controversial issue
2 when it gets to the other house. That is my experience.

3 MR. ENEY: A joint hearing doesn't mean joint 4 consideration.

5 THE CHAIRMAN: A good point. And they don't 6 do it on all occasions. I am appearing next week before
7 the House Education Committee and before the Senate
8 Education Committee on two different days.

9 MR. DELLA: And the same people have to come
10 down and testify before both houses, if they are inter-
11 ested.

12 DR. WINSLOW: I was going to remark to the 13 degree, I want to emphasize Dr. Michener's point, to the 14 degree that joint committees, whether regular standing
15 committees or occasional, as you suggest, Mrs. Freedlander, 16 it is perfectly obvious that to do this gets right in the 17 way of this claim on the part of bicameralists that you
18 get a second consideration, but you don't. The considera-
19 tion which is given to committee reports in the Maryland
20 Legislature, as well as a great many others on the floor
21 of the house or senate, as far as the effects are concerned
