2 THE CHAIRMAN: I think what Mr. Sayre --

3 MR. GOLDSTEIN: Is that the question?

4 THE CHAIRMAN: That is not exactly what he
5 meant. What he is driving at is this: Should the Con-
6 stitution contain a provision which would prohibit other 7 than gasoline taxes, which can't be repealed, because of 8 the issuance of bonds outstanding against them, should 9 the Constitution contain a provision which would prohibit 10 the General Assembly from dedicating certain tax revenues
11 to certain specific objects, such as was done, for example,
12 when the tobacco tax was raised, and it was dedicated 13 for teachers' salaries except for that one year. You 14 will remember.

15 MR. GOLDSTEIN: I remember very distinctly.
16 The Governor vetoed the bill; he came back and asked me
17 not to override his veto until he had a chance to deliver 18 his State of Union message. I said No, we promised the 19 teachers we would act on it promptly. We overrode his 20 veto.

21 THE CHAIRMAN: Mr. Sayre's concern, I don't
