

1 appeal to the Superior Court? You wouldn't need it.

2 JUDGE FRIEDMAN: Wouldn't need it.

3 MR. SYKES: Wouldn't that be one of the 4 great advantages?

5 THE CHAIRMAN: In effect, isn't what you
6 are saying that you want to sit as a court of full power
7 in probate matters? All we are suggesting is that --

8 JUDGE FRIEDMAN: Again I say I am only
9 speaking for myself because Judge Colgan -- and Judge
10 DiDomenico is not here -- again I would not be truthful
11 if I didn't want to elevate myself to the same category
12 as a Circuit Court judge or judge of the Supreme Bench.

13 MR. SYKES: You will be my candidate under 14 this new constitution if that means anything to you.

15 JUDGE FRIEDMAN: I do say, not in defense
16 but for my two colleagues, they are doing a real good
17 job. Again I say one man, we have a minimum of 25
18 inventories and 20 accounts a day. We have to approve 19 those accounts and have to approve those inventories.
20 I will not put my initial on it and I am sure neither 21 will my two colleagues until we go over them word for
