

1 review now is not only possible, but is being made, any-
2 way, with the two chambers in existence.

3 Well, I get to the conclusion of these remarks
4 with the idea that if we are ever going to try unicameral-
5 ism, and it seems to me this would be an ideal time to do
6 it, that the conditions are right, which should help to 7 gain acceptance. Our people are always slow to accept 8 change at the start, but there has been some change in 9 these last few years. We are all aware of them; and if 10 upon consideration of all the evidence you get, you feel 11 that it might be worthwhile for the State, I would be 12 inclined to think that you wouldn't have any time in the 13 foreseeable future, you are not going to get a better
14 time to do it, to try this procedure, this organization,
15 if you are interested in it and feel that you would like 16 to be just a little bit venturesome, so far as past
17 practice is concerned.

18 Okay, I thank you.

19 THE CHAIRMAN: That was just grand. This 20 historical review is something that I myself have needed
21 badly and I am sure, Dr. Graves, that you have benefited
