

1 to take office, the next day I shall call him and tell
2 him, Now, the budget has been moving up to this point, 3 but from now on, you are the newly elected Governor, the 4 budget process is yours, and he will take over as I did
5 in 1958, and there is no need.

6 I would certainly recommend that the inaugura-
7 tion of the Governor should not be changed. I don't see 8 any need for it, no need of it.

9 JUDGE ADKINS: All right.

10 MR. ENEY: Judge Adkins, could we go back to 11 the question of the lieutenant governor a moment?

12 JUDGE ADKINS: Sure.

13 MR. ENEY: Governor Tawes, I think the ques-
14 tion that Mr. Sayre was asking was whether the Constitution 15 should require, in other words, make it a must that the 16 lieutenant governor and the Governor be of the same party
17 and be elected together rather than merely run on the same 18 ticket.

19 GOVERNOR TAWES: Well, I don't think that is 20 always the case in other states. I have known of governors
21 being of one political party and the lieutenant governor
