

1 because of the cost.

2 THE CHAIRLADY: You feel there should be a
3 constitutional provision that all State-supported schools
4 be open without charge to all qualified people?

5 DR. PULLEN: Theoretically, in principle,
6 yes, I agree with that.

7 THE CHAIRLADY: Do you think it is feasible
8 to have such provision, economically feasible?

9 DR. PULLEN: Yes. I go further than that.
10 I think the same thing would apply to kindergartens and 11 nursery schools.

12 THE CHAIRLADY: And this should be in the 13 Constitution itself?

14 DR. PULLEN: The only reason you do not --
15 the only reason we are having the situation we have today
16 with respect to preschool education and higher education
17 is that the Constitution does not spell it out. I am 18 not a constitutional lawyer and I wouldn't dare, in the 19 presence of Mr. Eney, to even suggest that I know any-20 thing at all, but I do know something about rights and 21 I do know something about logic and I do know something
