

1 THE CHAIRLADY: And there would be a particu-
2 lar section of the Constitution devoted to that question?

3 DR. KUHN: Or as an article under the educa-
4 tion area. I don't know.

5 THE CHAIRLADY: But this would be restricted
6 to the University of Maryland and would not involve the 7 boards or the running of other public institutions of 8 higher learning in the State?

9 DR. KUHN: I certainly would not talk against 10 it involving the others. I would have to say again the 11 university is in a particularly vulnerable position
12 here in the sense that it must do so much research and 13 have so many responsibilities and, in short, disseminates
14 this knowledge and it is in this area of a new approach,
15 of new facts, that you most often run into very trying 16 relationships, shall we say, with the public.

17 THE CHAIRLADY: You mentioned the Michigan
18 Constitution. We happened to have copies of the educa-
19 tion provisions here and they proceed through the better
20 part of three and a half pages of small print, letter 21 size, and they deal with all the various institutions in
