

1 has already been done. May I simply say in summary that
2 I recommend that the Commission, in its deliberations
3 concerning the necessity for revision of the Constitution
4 of Maryland, proceed with extreme, deliberate caution.
5 In other words, we may have more to lose than gain.
6 I am thinking more of where you go from here. You see
7 the constitutional convention, legislative enactment,
8 referendum and so on, and then, of course, finally, I
9 have made some suggestion here for minimal change to 10 bring these documents in line with present day needs in 11 the program of education which is necessary in Maryland
12 today, and I do thank you for your patience at this late
13 hour.

14 THE CHAIRLADY: We thank you. Is Mrs. Romoser
15 or Mrs. Bull from the Parent-Teachers Association here?

16 MRS. A. K. ROMOSER: I am Mrs. Romoser. Mrs.
17 Bull is also here.

18 THE CHAIRLADY: You are both perfectly wel-
19 come to make remarks, if you both have some, or take your 20 choice.

21 MRS. ROMOSER: Speaking for the Maryland
