

1 THE CHAIRMAN: Well, we have a selling job to
2 do after we draft the Constitution.

3 MR. BURGESS: Well, I wonder if the demand
4 for these changes doesn't come more from a deep-seated
5 feeling on the part -- yes, I guess it's a selling job,
6 but selling this kind of thing to the people is hard.
7 You can go out and sell education, and these people that 8 sell education know what a job this is, and you sell 9 other kinds of services that the people want, and they 10 sell what they don't want and this is just --

11 THE CHAIRMAN: Well, if there is nothing
12 further, I wish on behalf of the Committee to thank each 13 of you for coming out and expressing your views. I
14 assure you that each member of the Committee will give 15 attention to all of the views expressed here and those 16 that have been submitted in writing and we will attempt 17 to come up with a draft which we will submit to the 18 Commission generally to be passed upon and then, if 19 adopted, it will be submitted to the Constitutional 20 Convention that we hope the citizens of the State will 21 approve. Thank you again.

(Hearing concluded.)
