

1 DR. BURDETT: November 15th, for Harford County
2 and October, for Contemporary Local Government in Maryland.

3 MR. RATCHFORD: They are still current.

4 MR. BROOKS: Are those single volume works,
5 each report a single volume?

6 MR. RATCHFORD: Yes, sir.

7 MR. BROOKS: A paperback that we could perhaps 8 get for distribution?

9 MR. RATCHFORD: Well, I defer to Dr. Burdett
10 on that point.

11 DR. BURDETT: You can get Contemporary Local 12 Government in Maryland, but you will be limited in the 13 number of copies for Harford County, since this was an 14 individual report. I think there may be as many as 15 twenty-five or thirty copies in existence now.

16 MR. RATCHFORD: Yet, the section they want on 17 alternatives perhaps could be obtained. This is a small 18 section, about twenty or thirty pages, which could be 19 Xeroxed or something like that. I don't think you would 20 be too interested in Harford County in detail, but it is 21 written by Grover Nash and his discussions of the various
