

the ministers and their wives.

MR. RENNIE: Calhoun has an opinion on this. I little book called Presbyterian Life, or something, use I'm a member of the church, but they send it

MR. SACHS: They want you to become a member church.

MR. RENNIE: I don't know whether I read it an article in the Post, or some other place, but prominent theologian someplace came out in this and said that churches should pay their share the same as everybody else.

MR. BOND: Except for actual places of worship.

MR. RENNIE: No, he said the whole thing. Get taxpayers' backs. Pay their whole share of it.

THE CHAIRMAN: They may get their wish, I will

MR. RENNIE: They reside out in California, I don't know. I was amazed to see this. It responsible clergyman.

MR. BOND: The constitutional thrust of what