

1 you are saying?

2 MR. DONAHO: Are they?

3 MR. BOND: I think they are, to a degree.

4 Well, never mind. I'm sorry.

5 THE CHAIRMAN: He has made that perfectly clear.

6 MR. DONAHO: I think they deserve their
7 rightful place amid the galaxy of State agencies.

8 THE CHAIRMAN: Which was next, ten?

9 MR. DONAHO: Thirteen. That's an open end thing,
10 which says you can legislate this out.

11 MR. BOND: Do you agree twelve should be out?
12 Jim Rennie seemed to agree that should be out.

13 MR. DONAHO: Yes, absolutely. That is the
14 one dangerous thing you can possibly do, is to have public
15 hearings as part of the executive government formulation.

16 MR. SACHS: He can do it whether or not --

17 MR. DONAHO: There is nothing to prevent him.
18 If he is that foolish. Okay. I remember Jim Webb who 19 was NASA Director was appointed Budget Administrator, and 20 he said we ought to be democratic. I'm going to give these 21 department heads a chance to appeal. He was crazy.
