

1 The inflexibility, on the one hand, of specifying we are 2 going to provide something, which is inflexible, or if we 3 are going to leave the problem to the Legislature. Maybe
4 that is less inflexible, but still has some inflexibilities
5 in it.

6 I am making a speech perhaps for broadening
7 the alternatives throughout. In number seven, I should 8 think that whatever is done, something should be done to 9 keep the unfortunate implication out, that I am sure was 10 not meant here, if you get in an argument, the counties
11 are always right. I would suggest that be rephrased
12 some way. Even if you are going to say that in a home
13 rule situation, the counties are going to determine on 14 a countywide vote, that still doesn't mean it is in favor 15 of the counties. It could mean it is in favor of the 16 people of the municipalities because that is what they 17 want and they are citizens, too. We need to get away
18 from the dichotomy that the people of Prince Georges
19 are all municipal or all county. They aren't. In all 20 cases, they are county residents and municipal residents,
21 both. It is quite possible to have a dual allegiance,
