

1 catches his interest or which sparks a thought that he is 2 willing to let us have the benefit of.

3 As you know, Dean Fordham is presently the Dean
4 of the University of Pennsylvania's Law School. Today's 5 guest is one of the leading authorities on the problems
6 involved in constitutional home rule. Dean Jefferson
7 Fordham has had a long and outstanding career as a scholar 8 and educator. After receiving his Bachelor's, Master's, 9 and Doctor of Jurisprudence degrees from the University of 10 North Carolina, Dean Fordham spent two years as a Sterling 11 Research fellow at Yale University, receiving his LL.B.
12 in 1930. He then began an academic career during which 13 he has taught at the law schools of the University of West 14 Virginia, Louisiana State, Vanderbilt, Ohio State, and the 15 University of Pennsylvania. In 1947 he was named Dean of 16 the Law School at Ohio State. Since 1952, he has been 17 Dean of the University of Pennsylvania's Law School.

18 Dean Fordham has been a prolific contributor
19 to various law journals and periodicals over the years.
20 His articles and books have done much to elevate to serious 21 consideration the very real problems of political subdivisions in the areas of local governmental law and