

1 where urban development is such it is destroying the 2 boundary line between, let us say, county and city or town
3 and county.

4 MR. MILES: I agree.

5 THE CHAIRMAN: And town and town, because taking 6 the corridor between Baltimore and Washington, for example,
7 the expansion of Laurel in all directions, into Howard 8 County, into Prince Georges, into Anne Arundel County, is 9 a very interesting development creating some problems
10 insofar as the town of Laurel is concerned just exactly 11 where its boundaries and responsibilities do start and 12 end. That I think is a good illustration of the shifting
13 of boundaries because of this spreading and urban develop-
14 ment that is taking place.

15 DR. LOEVY: Could I comment at this point on 16 this list of express powers?

17 THE CHAIRMAN: Yes, I would like to have you do
18 so, because I was going to ask some questions with respect
19 to it. For example, maybe you can answer it as you com-
20 ment on it, as you provide for own, acquire and condemn
21 property, how are you going to get rid of property when you
