

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That when said bonds are issued they shall be redeemable at the pleasure of the said county commissioners, at or before the maturity thereof, and shall be made payable at such times that not more than five hundred dollars thereof shall mature in any one year.

Bonds—how redeemable.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That the said county commissioners are hereby authorized and empowered to levy annually on the assessable property of said county a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on said bonds, and shall also levy, when necessary, for such sums as may be necessary and required to pay the principal of said bonds as the same may accrue when due, said levy to be designated on the records of the office of said commissioners and on the face of said bonds as the "Jail Building Fund."

Levy annually.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That the bonds authorized by this act shall be exempt from all taxation, and that the interest on said bonds shall be receivable in payment of county taxes.

Bonds exempted from taxation.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That the county commissioners of said county be and they are hereby authorized and empowered to build the new jail for said county, on the site of the present jail for said county, or in any other more eligible or convenient location which the said commissioners may select, in such manner and style, and upon such place as the said county commissioners elect, and in such building to use such of the materials of the present jail of said county as they may deem suitable.

Where to build jail.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That the said county commissioners are hereby authorized and empowered to tear down and remove the present jail of said county, and provide temporarily, at the expense of said county, such accommodations for the sheriff of said county, and the prisoners committed to his custody, as they may deem proper and expedient until the new jail is completed and ready for use.

Provide temporarily for prisoners.

Approved March 20, 1884.
