

SEC. 2. And be it enacted, That the persons in charge of said engine shall, at the signal or request of any person riding a horse, or of any person leading or driving a horse or horses attached to any vehicle, or at the indication of such horse or horses becoming alarmed by said engine, shall go as far as practicable to the side of the road, and remain stationary until the said horse or horses have passed to a safe distance, in the meantime making as little noise as possible with the steam.

Duty of persons in charge.

SEC. 3. And be it enacted, That whenever such engine shall be propelled in a narrow road of thirty feet or less, one of the said men shall precede the said engine at least one hundred and fifty yards, to warn persons riding or driving upon such road of the approach of said engine, and shall assist such person in the management of any horse or horses that may require his assistance to control.

One man to precede engine.

SEC. 4. And be it enacted, That if any person in charge of any such engine shall fail or neglect to comply with the provisions of this act, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than ten dollars, and in default of the payment of said fine shall be committed to jail for not less than thirty days, or until the fine is paid, or both, in the discretion of the court or justice.

Penalty for violation.

SEC. 5. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the owner of such engine to have a copy of this act posted on said engine, and in default of compliance with this act shall be subject to a fine of not less than ten dollars.

Copy of act to be posted on engine

Approved April 8, 1884.