votes in the aggregate. In the event of the death or resignation of any of the said directors during the term for which they are so chosen, the vacancy thus occurring shall not be filled at the succeeding annual election, but the number of directors shall be reduced in this manner, from time to time, until they shall not exceed twenty, which number shall thenceforth constitute a board of directors to manage the affairs of the company for one year, or until their successors have been elected and qualified. At their first meeting after said election, the directors shall choose by ballot a president, either from their own body, or from the other stockholders, and in the event of the death, resignation or disqualification of that officer, they shall proceed to elect his successor in the same manner.
