

To label.

stamped, printed or stenciled word oleomargarine, in type or letters as aforesaid, to wit: in plain Roman letters not less than half an inch square, placed horizontally in proper order thus, "OLEOMARGARINE," conspicuously on the outside of each and every parcel, piece or package so sold, that the buyer shall be apprised of the nature of the article which he or she has bought; and every sale of each and every imitation of butter, known to the trade as oleomargarine, or any of its genus, whether butterine, suene or any name that may be given or applied to it or them, either wholesale or retail, not so stamped, branded, stenciled, marked or labeled, shall be void, and no action or actions shall be maintained for the price thereof.

Retail dealer.

SEC. 2. Be it enacted, That no retail dealer shall sell or offer for sale any of the articles or substances mentioned in the first section of this act, which are not the legitimate and direct product of the dairy, except from a receptacle upon which the word oleomargarine is distinctly stamped, branded or stenciled, as provided in the said section, which said receptacle so stamped, branded or stenciled as aforesaid, shall be kept in plain view of all persons to whom such substances or articles shall be sold or offered for sale, so that the said inscription can be easily read by any one purchasing from such retail dealer.

Dairy butter.

SEC. 3. It shall be unlawful for any dealer who is asked for butter by any purchaser or intended purchaser of the same, to sell or to offer for sale to such purchaser, or intended purchaser, any of the substances or articles mentioned in section one of this act, which are not the legitimate and direct product of the dairy, and not made exclusively of milk or cream, even though the packages or parcels in which such substances or articles are sold or offered for sale are stamped, branded, printed or stenciled as hereinbefore provided.
