<sup>2</sup> His initial election to represent a St. Leonard's Hundred was ruled invalid because the hundred was not yet legally established and no writ had been issued for an election there. Bishop's election to represent Mattapanient Hundred was then reported.
<sup>3</sup> Representation on this committee, appointed "to consider all bills," was clearly based on a rudimentary sense of geographical balance and probably on literacy.

<sup>1</sup> Although he was removed from the Council on September 5, this did not affect his sitting on a special writ. He also represented by proxy seventy-three inhabitants of Kent Isle.
<sup>2</sup> Blount and Trafford, as members of the Council, were entitled to sit by special writ in this Assembly, but neither man actually attended.
<sup>3</sup> Thomas Weston "pleaded he was no freeman because he had no land nor certain dwelling here &ca.," but by vote the Assembly decided he was a freeman.

PROPRIETARY ASSEMBLY OF 1644/45<sup>1</sup>

Cecilius Calvert, 2nd Lord Baltimore, proprietor
Leonard Calvert, governor

February 1644/45

(No record of membership)

<sup>1</sup> No journal survives from this Assembly, which met during the month when Capt. Richard Ingle successfully challenged the proprietary government and caused Leonard Calvert to flee to Virginia. One act is known to have been passed on February 11, which was published under seal on February 13.
