

<sup>1</sup> Talbot returned to England and Ireland after the first session; Calvert had succeeded Talbot as secretary by the third session.

<sup>2</sup> Fitzherbert apparently left the colony permanently after the second session.

<sup>3</sup> In England during the second session; promoted to the Upper House before the Assembly reconvened in 1674.

<sup>4</sup> Questions arose in this Assembly of replacing delegates who were temporarily or permanently out of the colony. When Henry Trippe was absent from the second session, Dorchester County's justices or freemen elected a replacement, identity unknown, who apparently was never seated by the Lower House. By the third session Calvert County voters had replaced Richard Perry and Daniel Jenifer, who had moved to England and Virginia respectively. It is uncertain whether William Ford of Dorchester County was a third delegate, or was replacing Daniel Clarke, who did not attend the fourth session but was still alive. John Vanhack ceased serving from Baltimore County when he was elected as a Burgess from newly erected Cecil County in 1674/75. Thomas Todd and George Wells probably replaced both him and James Browne at the fourth session.

<sup>5</sup> Warren died before the first session convened; Browne went to New England; Dixon and London never attended, perhaps because of Somerset County's expressed desire to send only two delegates for financial reasons.

<sup>6</sup> Somerset and Dorchester both requested that they be allowed to send only two delegates due to the heavy financial burden their expenses placed on newer counties.

<sup>7</sup> Representation for St. Mary's City was first granted at the second session as an act of Governor Calvert to ensure the presence in the Assembly of John Morecroft and Thomas Notley, two devoted proprietary supporters.

<sup>8</sup> Cecil County, created in 1674, sent its first delegates to the fourth session.

<sup>9</sup> Lower House membership on the Committee of Accounts at the first session is unknown.

<sup>10</sup> Lower House membership on the Committee of Laws, which first appeared at the second session, is unknown for that session. Two committees sat in the third session, with men marked (3a) serving early in the session and those marked (3b) working on legislation late in the session. The entire Upper House met in conference with the Lower House members at the fourth session.

PROPRIETARY ASSEMBLY OF 1676-1682

Charles Calvert, 3rd Lord Baltimore, proprietor <sup>1</sup>

Cecilius Calvert, governor <sup>2</sup>

FIRST SESSION: May 15-June 15, 1676

SECOND SESSION: October 20-November 14, 1678

THIRD SESSION: August 16-September 17, 1681

FOURTH SESSION: November 1-12, 1681 <sup>3</sup>

FIFTH SESSION: April 25-May 13, 1682

UPPER HOUSE

|                            |                              |                           |                                  |
|----------------------------|------------------------------|---------------------------|----------------------------------|
| Philip Calvert, chancellor | Jesse Wharton (D-2)          | Henry Coursey (A-2)       | William Stevens (A-3)            |
| William Calvert, secretary | Thomas Taillor               | Benjamin Rozer (A-2, D-3) | George Talbot (A-3) <sup>4</sup> |
| Baker Brooke (D-3)         | Thomas Notley (A-2, D-3),    | Vincent Lowe (A-3)        | William Digges (A-3)             |
| Samuel Chew (D-2)          | deputy governor <sup>2</sup> | Henry Darnall (A-3)       |                                  |

LOWER HOUSE <sup>5</sup>

|                                     |                                 |  |                         |
|-------------------------------------|---------------------------------|--|-------------------------|
| ST. MARY'S                          | John Homewood                   | BALTIMORE                              | John Goddin (E-3)       |
| Thomas Notley, speaker <sup>1</sup> | William Richardson              | George Wells                           | Henry Smith (E-3)       |
| (C-2) <sup>2</sup>                  | Richard Hill (E-3)              | John Stansby (S-3)                     |                         |
| John Coode <sup>6</sup>             | CALVERT                         | John Waterton                          | DORCHESTER              |
| William Hatton                      | Thomas Brooke (D-2)             | John Scott                             | John Stevens            |
| Walter Hall (D-2)                   | Richard Hall                    | James Mills (E-4 or E-5) <sup>11</sup> | William Ford (D-3)      |
| Clement Hill (E-2) <sup>7</sup>     | Richard Ladd                    | TALBOT                                 | Bartholomew Ennalls     |
| Richard Gardiner (E-3)              | Christopher Rousby <sup>8</sup> | Philemon Lloyd,                        | John Hudson (D-2)       |
| KENT                                | Francis Billingsley (E-2)       | speaker 2-5                            | Anthony Tall (E-2, D-3) |
| Joseph Wickes                       | CHARLES                         | John Edmundson                         | John Brooke (E-3)       |
| Thomas Marsh (D-3)                  | John Allen (D-2)                | Richard Woolman (D-3)                  | Henry Trippe (E-3)      |
| Henry Hosier                        | John Douglass (D-3)             | Wenlock Christison (D-3)               | ST. MARY'S CITY         |
| Samuel Tovey <sup>9</sup>           | Robert Henley                   | George Robotham (E-3)                  | Kenelm Cheseldyne       |
| John Hynson (E-3)                   | Henry Adams                     | John Rousby (E-3)                      | Robert Carville         |
| Thomas Smith (E-3?) <sup>9</sup>    | Josias Fendall <sup>10</sup>    | SOMERSET                               | CECIL                   |
| ANNE ARUNDEL                        | John Stone (E-2)                | William Stevens (C-3)                  | James Frisby            |
| William Burgess                     | Randolph Brandt (E-3)           | Roger Woolford                         | Jonathan Sybray         |
| James Rigby (D-3)                   |                                 | James Dashiell                         | William Pearce          |
|                                     |                                 | John White (S-3)                       | Nathaniel Garrett       |