

1 include any other branch, could filter down that far.

2 THE CHAIRMAN: Would it perhaps be better
3 to say, petition the Government or any department thereof?

4 MR. SCANLAN: Better?

5 MR. CASE: I would have no objection to that,
6 so long as it is clear that the right to petition the
7 Legislature still exists.

8 THE CHAIRMAN: Mr. Gentry?

9 MR. CASE: As such.

10 THE CHAIRMAN: All right. Mr. Gentry, do you
11 and Professor Asper have a preference, thinking only of 12 the first sentence now for the language, petition any 13 branch of the Government, or the language, petition the 14 Government or any department thereof.

15 MR. GENTRY: I frankly just don't like either
16 one. And you see, in all this you see everytime you try 17 to improve on the old language, you get into more and
18 more problems, and that is why we have what was recom-
19 mended. But that will be demonstrated more clearly as 20 we go on.

21 THE CHAIRMAN: So that I have a motion to
