

1 respecting the establishment of religion such as the 2 first phrase of this proposed Section 3, but our proposed 3 language here that no person shall be restricted, et 4 cetera, I feel might possibly enable. I know I person-
5 ally have been mixed up with some cases in Black Muslims
6 in the Penetentiary who want to disrupt the whole adminis-
7 tration of the discipline there, and I am not at all sure 8 after doing some research into the applicable law that 9 under this proposed language which goes further than the 10 Federal Constitution wouldn't put those people in a posi-
11 tion to continue.

12 I don't think anybody wants them to have the 13 Constitution to do it.

14 PROFESSOR ASPER: You are obviously better
15 informed than I am. You have been doing research on the 16 point. Under the ordinary police powers of the State,
17 power to prevent abuse of practices, disruptive practices, 18 even at --

19 MRS. BOTHE: This says, No person shall be 20 restricted in the free exercise of religious profession
21 and worship -- period. That goes further than the Federal