

1 at least preserve the words that have come down as
2 meaningful words since 1776.

3 THE CHAIRMAN: You purposely omitted the word,
4 God, in the first sentence?

5 MR. CASE: Yes.

6 THE CHAIRMAN: All right, you ready for the 7 question? Mr. Gentry?

8 MR. GENTRY: Unless under the color. You
9 don't run into that.

10 MR. CASE: No.

11 DR. BARD: May I ask Mr. Case a question? Why
12 do you object to going down to rights, such as Mr. Claggett
13 suggested?

14 MR. CASE: I think it is another thought here,
15 that is the reason. It deals with the different concept.
16 I think that concept ought to be debated separately and
17 apart from what we are talking about here. What I am
18 again trying to do is only preserve the language.

19 DR. BARD: It seems to me you are somewhat
20 contradictory because this is within the language.

21 MR. CASE: It is, but it is another idea; and
