

1 redistricting and to grant such legal or equitable relief
2 as it may determine to be necessary.

3 I would like for Mr. Scanlan to speak to that 4 point, because he has had some intimate relationship with 5 this.

6 MR. SCANLAN: When I got this Report up in 7 the mountains of Tennessee, I was a little disturbed about 8 the omission, and my recollection was just as Mr. Case's
9 was; that in adopting Mr. Case's compromise, it was no
10 intention to knock out the judicial review provisions.
11 Unless there is something like this, there are two prob-
12 lems. It is all very well to say, as the Committee did
13 here, that the courts would take appropriate action anyway,
14 but the first place you would have to go to the Circuit
15 Court of Appeals presumably for Anne Arundel County, and 16 you have added three months to the proceeding by the 17 necessity of that step; and you run into the situation
18 where the court says, Well, the election is upon us, let 19 it stand for one more time. There is a second objection, 20 perhaps a little more lawyers' law than that one, but in 21 view of the fact of the very vague provision, is that,
