

1 THE CHAIRMAN: Dr. Burdette, I think if you
2 put that question to the lawyers here, you would not 3 have unanimity of opinion. I think the only thing that 4 you would have unanimity of opinion on is that some lawyer
5 would raise the question, at some point.

6 DR. BURDETTE: I am saying I don't want to 7 limit it. While I think in many circumstances rights
8 come out of pressure and demand, still I don't want to see 9 any constitutional clause which limits and reduces the 10 power of that demand.

11 THE CHAIRMAN: Any further discussion?

12 MR. CLAGETT: Whereas I have great sympathy
13 for the desire for specification which would be accom-
14 plished by the insertion, as suggested by Mr. Haile, 15 and I am certainly sympathetic with the ambitions and 16 aspirations of all who may fall within that clause, I
17 think it is unnecessarily redundant. It doesn't really 18 add anything. It tends to distract or to read here, go 19 from the real impact and clear mandate that is found in 20 the preceding sentences, and unnecessarily clutters in 21 a way consistent with today as we were protesting against
