

1 attention is going to increase. Certainly, I feel that
2 if we are going to, in fact the present methods of search
3 and seizure are oldfashioned. I don't think they are 4 going to have to invade people's houses much longer.
5 They are going to end up being able to use some kind of 6 remote device to invade their homes instead.

7 DR. JENKINS: Big brother.

8 MRS. BOTHE: A real big brother type of thing,
9 and if we are writing a constitution for 1984, I think
10 we have to consider this possibility quite as strongly
11 as the oldfashioned knocking on the door and breaking 12 it down and looting the papers and books.

13 PROFESSOR ASPER: What I am suggesting is,
14 if we attempt to do even what the model does here, and 15 if ten years from now somebody comes up with an intercep-
16 tion device which is based on a laser beam rather than 17 an electronic device, then we will have to have a con-
18 stitutional amendment to correct that, whereas I think
19 the ordinary search and seizure language here is appro-
20 priate to accomplish the purpose.
