

1 Commission very early in the stages of its proceeding
2 also said that they would not use language of existing
3 constitutions merely because they had been construed,
4 but would try to use language that could be understood
5 by the man in the street.

6 MRS. BOTHE: I will accept Mr. Scanlan's
7 amendment.

8 MR. HAILE: I do, too, as the seconding party.

9 THE CHAIRMAN: The motion is that the word,
10 criminal, be inserted before the word, punishment, in 11 the second line of Section 8. Mr. Sayre?

12 MR. SAYRE: This is more in the line of a
13 question. If we simply said, No person shall twice be 14 put in jeopardy for the same offense, why is that not
15 adequate and leaving out the word, criminal?

16 THE CHAIRMAN: Mr. Gentry?

17 MR. GENTRY: I think the word, criminal, clears
18 up any doubt in anybody's mind. I am speaking in support
19 of the motion.

20 THE CHAIRMAN: I was directing you to Mr.
21 Sayre's question.
