

1 required extraordinary majorities at two-thirds rather
2 than three-fifths of the Members of the House involved.
3 The Committee recommends that all provisions for extra-
4 ordinary majorities be set at the two-thirds figure. Let 5 me put some meat into that.

6 In the Constitution by way of illustration,
7 Article 3, Section 27, calls for three readings unless 8 two-thirds of the Members so decide; that is furthermore 9 Article 3, Section 19, calls for the expulsion of a Mem-
10 ber of the House if two-thirds so decide after proceeding.

11 On the other hand, in connection with amend-
12 ments to the Constitution, Article 14, Section 1, three-13 fifths are required. In connection with the Governors veto,
14 three-fifths are required for overriding a veto, Article
15 2, Section 17. In connection with referendum, Article
16 14, Section 2 requires three-fifths of the State Legis-
17 lature.

18 Now, it is the belief of the Legislative
19 Department Committee that we ought to make this uniform
20 and that it is our feeling that uniformity ought to be 21 along the lines of two-thirds. By way of illustration,
