

1 The next thing is, under the present Constitu-
2 tion, of course, which you are seeking to carry forward
3 in this as a matter of theory, the Governor is required
4 to appoint from the list submitted by the State Central 5 Committee. What are the arguments for or against not 6 making a similar provision here?

7 DR. BARD: There are a number of arguments
8 that came up before our Committee, and I might add that 9 this was settled at another time, one, the fact that, I
10 don't know why I should bring bad news into this particular 11 commentary, but it is our feeling that the State Central 12 Committee ought not to be involved in this factor. They 13 often do not represent the best segment of the political 14 party and most often would not be prepared really to neces-
15 sarily give the Governor the best advice.

16 You will remember -- at least, I remember --
17 in the City of Baltimore very recently where the Governor 18 just didn't make an appointment because he felt that the 19 State Central Committee was going to advise him along 20 other lines and he didn't make it.

21 MR. CASE: I must confess to you that I think you
