

1 are taking a view of maybe as a practical thing, which 2 doesn't square with the theory of it because, take this 3 example, suppose you have a Democratic Governor but the 4 vacancy is caused by the death of a Republican Member.
5 I am using this as an example. Now, isn't it better
6 to insure at least that the Republican party has somebody 7 that people who work in the party, somebody that they 8 want rather than to pick a Democratic type representative, 9 which is what would happen if this is true.

10 I just think that where you have got that 11 situation where the Governor is in one party and the 12 deceased Member is in another party, there ought to be 13 some way to insure that the party's man goes in and not 14 the Governór's man.

15 THE CHAIRMAN: Wait just a second. We are 16 discussing now a question we discussed before. The 17 action of the Committee here was the action they were 18 directed to take by the Commission previously. Do you
19 want to reconsider the action?

20 MR. CASE: I guess I wasn't here or had for-21 gotten it.
