

1 such jurisdiction as provided by law, and we will make 2 that corresponding change without discussion throughout
3 the Article. It appears many times. Any further question?

4 All right, Paragraph B, Page 17.

5 MR. MARTINEAU: This provides the composition
6 of the Appellate Court. The Appellate Court shall be 7 composed of a Chief Judge and no fewer than four associate
8 judges, as provided by law. The Appellate Court may sit 9 in panels of no fewer than three judges, as provided by 10 rule.

11 Here, of course, we're running into the same
12 problem we just had a vote on, except I think there is 13 more reason here to have the three judges rather than a 14 higher number because we contemplate that there will be 15 many panels of this court sitting throughout the State and 16 we don't think that a panel should necessarily be any more 17 than three.

18 We can envision a three judge panel and, of 19 course, a two to one vote by such a panel would be a 20 decision of the court.

21 THE CHAIRMAN: Any question? Any comment, debate?
