

1 appointing judge, then, of course, the new chief judge
2 would have to either reappoint him, but if the new chief 3 judge didn't want to reappoint him, of course, he could 4 appoint someone else; but if his term continued on beyond
5 the term of the appointing judge, the chief judge could 6 still remove him. So as a practical matter, I don't 7 think that makes any difference.

8 THE CHAIRMAN: Well, as a matter of phraseology,
9 that is your only point?

10 MR. CASE: I would like to see it at the pleasure
11 of the chief judge. I am not sure I want that.

12 THE CHAIRMAN: This is what is intended by 13 the Committee.

14 MR. CASE: They have not made it quite clear.

15 THE CHAIRMAN: But if your point is only one of 16 phraseology, Mr. Martineau said he will straighten it out.

17 JUDGE ADKINS: I question the advisability of 18 having this appointment completely at the pleasure of any-19 body. I think the clerk, if you are going to attract the 20 competent career people for clerks of court, as I suppose 21 this intended to do, you've got to give them some kind of
