

1 General Assembly may provide, notwithstanding any other
2 provisions of this Article, for the creation of inter-
3 governmental authorities, would confer any power not already
4 conferred on the General Assembly by the first part of 5 Paragraph (b).

6 MR. CLAGGET: No, it would not.

7 THE CHAIRMAN: Mr. Martineau?

8 MR. MARTINEAU: It would seem to me, it would.
9 I would think an authority would be considered an agency
10 and not a civil division. I may be wrong on that, but it
11 just strikes me that you are talking about something a
12 little bit different than you are when you are talking
13 about a civil division.

14 MR. CLAGGET: No, I don't think there would be
15 any distinction there. Civil division is open to definition
16 by the Legislature and could include an intergovernmental
17 authority and it is the thinking of the Committee that it
18 would so include it.

19 THE CHAIRMAN: Any further discussion? Mr.
20 Mitchell?

21 MR. MITCHELL: Mr. Chairman, rephrasing the
