

1 Commission will have to make, and I would like you to 2 be thinking about it.

3 Also, I think it is quite obvious that from 4 the materials that we have accumulated and that the Com-
5 mission has had in the hearings, that the work book will 6 not be a work book. It will be work books, and this is 7 one of the reasons why it is just simply not possible to 8 contemplate having this published by the end of this 9 year, or the middle of January.

10 Our present target on that would be to com-
11 plete that work by spring, April or May first, somewhere 12 in there. That, of course, as you know, will be primarily 13 an editing job. It will be pulling together the research
14 memoranda and digesting testimony and other information, 15 original source information that we have.

16 We are not under quite the same pressure on 17 that, but with the Legislature being in session the first 18 of the year, and it probably being necessary for this 19 Commission to appear before the Legislature in order to 20 discuss and present the bill that the next Legislature
21 will have to consider, it means that the Commission cannot
