

1 agree with him that if people rise to principle we 2 will get the kind of delegates that we should have in 3 the convention. But his point of view as to what a
4 blue ribbon commission and what the people who vote
5 think a blue ribbon commission should be, I wonder if 6 there isn't a variance. As to Mr. Case's point, I 7 agree if there is no money the political machines, as 8 such, will not be interested. But I would like to point
9 out in the Fifth Legislative District of Baltimore City
10 there is $50,000 in pay involved. I can assure Mr.
11 Case that the political machines of the Fifth Legislative 12 District of Baltimore City are going to field tickets
13 of what they consider qualified people, probably ex-14 legislators, people who have been active in local and 15 state government and they will be running under political 16 aegis. You have $6000, roughly the pay of a delegate,
17 I think it is rather unrealistic to feel the people
18 who have been active in electing delegates, 120 times
19 50 --

20 MR. SCANLAN: No.

21 MR. BOND: It is unrealistic to think people
