

1 agreement about making that a further requirement of 2 filing. The filing fee is modest enough although we 3 feel setting it higher might deter someone really earnestly
4 interested in serving in this Convention from filing
5 yet $25 is a little more than a token filing fee.

6 I personally have no strong feeling against 7 some minimum petitions being required if one thought
8 that that would deter crackpots from running but crackpots
9 can amass petitions, we do it all the time in Montgomery
10 County. I don't know what real deterrent that is on 11 people seeking office just doing it --

12 MR. CASE: Was that a conscious use of 13 that pronoun?

14 MR. CLAGETT: One of experience.

15 DR. JENKINS: Unless debate convinces me
16 otherwise, I think this is a brilliant suggestion. It 17 seems to me to have the result not only of eliminating 18 the publicity seeker, but it would also serve to 19 eliminate the straw man who might be put up by a 20 political boss.

21 MRS. FREDLANDER: No.
