

1           MR. CLAGETT: Mr. Chairman, I listened care-
2 fully to the pros and cons. I thought it boiled down
3 to a simple issue of whether you were voting for con-
4 stitutional autonomy or statutory autonomy, and then I
5 moved one step further and came to the conclusion that 6 constitutional autonomy deserved a progress and develop-
7 ment and state of affairs which was good and would con-
8 tinue to be made better, and therefore voted against the 9 motion.

10           THE CHAIRMAN: Any further explanation of the 11 votes? Mrs. Bothe, anything further with respect to your 12 Report?

13           DR. JENKINS: Mr. Chairman, I want to make a
14 motion.

15           THE CHAIRMAN: Go ahead.

16           DR. JENKINS: I move the following statement
17 appear in the record and minutes of the Commission, and 18 I doubt this will take very much time. The rejection by 19 the Commission of provision for constitutional autonomy
20 for the University and other interested State colleges
21 is not to be construed as disapproval of provision for
