

1 chief executive. In other words, I can conceive of a
2 very definite conflict if the Governor had the right
3 to reorganize the administrative office of the court.

4 THE CHAIRMAN: Well, I am not expressing 5 an opinion. I don't see the difficulty but is not the 6 language here capable of that interpretation that it
7 would be applicable to the administrative offices within 8 the other two departments of government?

9 JUDGE ADKINS: Well, our thought was that 10 it was not but I gather it must be.

11 THE CHAIRMAN: Mr. Scanlan.

12 MR. SCANLAN: I notice it is late in the 13 day to be suggesting changes in the text but to offset
14 the problem, the Chairman raised to make it perfectly 15 clear the power is limited to agencies within the 16 executive branch, you could strike the words executive 17 and administrative appearing in the first line of (a)
18 and then add the phrase within the executive branch
19 to follow the phrase state government. The section
20 would then read all offices, agencies and instrumentalities
21 of state government within the executive branch, and
