

1 the Legislature had the subpoena power. Mr. Case made the 2 emphatic statement that he thought it did. I think Senator
3 Hoff had a question in his mind as to whether the power
4 existed and as to whether the Legislative Council had the 5 power.

6 In any event, the one definitive action that the 7 Commission did take was to request that that point be re-8 served and that a memorandum be prepared on the power of 9 the Legislature to make investigations, compel appearance
10 of witnesses and so forth.

11 There was discussion as to whether anything at 12 all should be included in the Constitution, leaving it
13 silent and leaving the inherent power, if it existed, 14 to issue subpoenas, whether the power should be limited to 15 the Legislature itself, as in a grand inquest, for instance, 16 as is presently provided in the Constitution, whether the 17 power should be exercisable by any Committee of the Legis-
18 lature at any time or whether the power should be exercisable
19 by the Legislature or by Committees only in accordance with 20 law and whether the power to issue subpoenas in any given 21 case should require an extraordinary vote or, at the very
