

1 will briefly indicate what this information is about.

2 First of all, this is being prepared in response
3 to the several inquiries we have had concerning the extent
4 of review one body gives to the legislation of the other.
5 The first thing we've used, and we used this information
6 many times in the Political Subcommittee, is how much legis-
7 lation is local in nature and how much is State. Now, all 8 of these recommendations, insofar as you can make a sta-
9 tistical analysis, is as much judgment. You will note,
10 under House and Senate bills, the first item is just a 11 recognition of how many of the bills are really local in 12 character, as apart from those dealing with Statewise issues.
13 As you can see, in the House, 39.4, and in the Senate 46.3.

14 Now, the first column is the number of total
15 bills considered in the House and Senate. Now, the first,
16 under both State and local, I'll deal with just the House,
17 because the same key is applicable to both, died in Committee 18 is not literally that. It's died in Committee or on the 19 Floor. Died in the Senate means either died in the Committee
20 or died on the Floor. Review Index Zero indicates that the 21 body, in this case, looking at the House, that the House
