

1 higher education and makes it lots easier for those of 2 us associated with State institutions to move within 3 that frame of reference. I would see it, for example,
4 as providing those of us who operate at Bowie and like
5 Dr. Jenkins at Morgan, to have the kind of flexibility
6 which will permit the State colleges to move ahead more
7 rapidly. One of the very reasons I am at Bowie State
8 College is as so many of you know, is because of the 9 restrictions that have been so very severe that this 10 college has not been able to move ahead and has some serious
11 difficulties.

12 MR. SAYRE: You think this would open it up?

13 DR. BARD: I think this would open it wide open,
14 and I have strong feelings about this from experience.
15 These are not mere perfunctory words.

16 THE CHAIRMAN: Mr. Sykes?

17 MR. SYKES: Mr. Chairman, no one knows more
18 about the State education system than I do. Enlighten
19 me as to whether or not the addition of this language
20 that Dr. Bard recommends would provide for two semi-21 autonomous administrative bodies which might be like two
