

1 go ahead and talk and try to be influential but go
2 about their business because they can't afford to be in 3 the Legislature, it doesn't have the attractiveness for 4 their talents. (We), and this is getting back to the mat-
5 ter of population, we are going to become more and more
6 an urban nation. Within another twenty years, 70 per 7 cent of our population will reside in suburban and 8 urban areas. This means there is going to be smaller 9 and smaller vote, I think, representing the territories 10 as such.

11 Where do we get the greater strength for those 12 people who don't have the vote of the Legislature? It
13 is through a strong local, district or regional govern-
14 ment who would be able to have its proper representation 15 in the Legislature, because it has to be concerned with 16 areas. If we take a whole perspective of where we are 17 involved, we need to have a body that can take a stronger 18 look at the legislation, be able to introduce half as 19 much legislation as a bicameral Legislature will do and 20 would be able to have certain procedures that actually 21 will provide a closer look at the legislation that goes
