2 Counties emanating from the Constitution. Now, if that 3 is going to be our approach consistent with that,
4 must be the County and the relationship of it with the 5 cities because the cities are within the geographical 6 boundaries of the County. You can't have two separate 7 and distinct autonomous areas. You've got to have the 8 two with one having some degree of control and direction
9 over the other. It has been the decision and is the 10 recommendation of the Committee that the County shall 11 make provision for the creation of new cities rather 12 than having a potential built-in conflict between 13 the County and the City if the County has a broad grant
14 of power, and the City has a broad grant of power, one
15 from the Constitution and the other from statute.

16 MR. SCANLAN: I don't see how you answered
17 Senator Hoff's question.

18 THE CHAIRMAN: I think if you will hold the 19 rest of the questions until we get to 11.04, it may be 20 a little clearer.

21 MRS. BOTHE: Can I ask a question?
